A note before you begin

This journal is a personal tracking and management tool only. It is not medical advice, diagnosis, or treatment, and it is not a substitute for care from a licensed clinician. It is not affiliated with, endorsed by, or sponsored by any medication manufacturer or healthcare brand. Do not start, stop, or change a medication, meal plan, or activity based on this book. Record only what your own prescriber has directed. If you notice concerning symptoms, seek professional medical care promptly.

This journal is a personal tracking tool. It is not therapy, diagnosis, or treatment. Seek urgent care for chest pain, fainting, thoughts of harm, or a sudden change you cannot explain.

How to use this journal

One operating system, not twelve personalities

- Pick at most three habits. Write a minimum version for bad days.
- Weekly contract: what you will do, what you will not track, the repair if you miss two days.
- Daily page is a tick + one line. If you want a moral essay, you are doing it wrong.

Marks & scales

Use these marks consistently so patterns are easy to see later — and easy to share with your care team.

Min	The version you can do when life is loud
Repair	After two misses, not a rebirth

Where I am starting

Three habits, not ten

Operating rules

If I could only keep one habit this week, which one is identity, not mood?

What environment change is cheaper than more willpower?

Where did I negotiate with myself after 8 p.m.?

The minimum version of the habit on a bad day.

Who is a useful witness, and who is a jury?

What I will stop tracking so the signal gets cleaner.

A cue I can attach to an existing ritual (kettle, keys, teeth).

The story 'I am bad at this' — replace with a process note.

Where friction should go up (make the old thing harder).

Where friction should go down (make the new thing obvious).
